Police must stop park vandalism, residents say

By MARGO DEWEY
ANP Staff Writer

Extra police patrol and a helping hand from nearby residents may be the key to halting teens from drinking in Merriman Park, local residents say.

David Wright and his wife, Judith, asked councilmembers at a recent meeting for help in preventing teens from drinking alcoholic beverages, including beer and vodka, near their home in Merriman Park.

Wright told councilmembers the teens are loud and keep his family up all hours of the evening.

"We have a lot of problems with drunk teens on Colbert Street. Every day my wife has to clean up the empty and broken bottles," Wright said.

Romulus police Chief Fred Dansby said he has only received one call about drinking in the park from the Wrights. Dansby said police do patrol the area morning, noon and night.

"We make periodic checks. This kind of activity goes on in parks. Every city has problems with parks to some degree," Dansby said.

Besides the drinking, Mayor Beverly McAnally said several city parks have been vandalized and cost the city thousands of dollars.

"The public doesn't value the parks. We put money into them and the kids destroy them," McAnally said.

Dansby said one way to stop vandalism is to make residents aware of how their tax dollars are going to waste. Dansby recommended neighborhoods set up a "neighborhood watch program."

Duwayne Martin, director of Romulus parks and recreation, said he has heard a number of complaints from neighbors about teenagers' late-hours drinking. Martin said he is looking into Wright's suggestion of extending the 10-foot fence already in place.

"Neighbors have suggested if the park is fenced totally, it may stop the problem. Right now, we don't have the staff to lock the gate," Martin said.

Martin also said the neighborhood watch program could be the answer to the drinking problem. He said the city only has one part-time worker to clean up the parks.

"We just don't have the manpower to lock the gate at 10 p.m. and open it up at 6 a.m.," Martin said.

The city is offering a $250 reward for the arrest and conviction of anyone who vandalizes city parks. Martin said anyone with information about the vandalism should contact his office.

Meat pie company to create 25 new jobs

By MARGO DEWEY
ANP Staff Writer

The Hamilton Meat Pie Co. will soon open its doors at 29411 Beverly Road in Romulus.

Councilmembers recently approved the establishment of an industrial development district to allow the company to set up shop and create about 25 new jobs.

Richard Calleja, president of Hamilton Meat Pie, told councilmembers the company now employs 45 people in Dearborn where the company manufactures beef turnovers. The company is moving from Dearborn.

"We're manufacturing 250,000 pies a week. That will go up to 350,000 pies a week with the new production. We need more equipment," Calleja said.

Calleja bought the pie business in 1963. He said the company needs a place to expand. "We have nowhere to go," Calleja said.

Councilmembers asked about wages and health benefits for future employees.

"The employees are represented by a union. Normally, the position starts at $5.25 per hour to $6.10. The positions include health and dental," Calleja said.

Calleja said he is hoping to make the move from Dearborn to Romulus by May.

The parcel of land on Beverly Road is 5.61 acres. Calleja said he would like to rehabilitate the existing structure.

Councilmembers gave their nod of support for the industrial development district by a unanimous vote.

Councilmembers OK developer's request

By MARGO DEWEY
ANP Staff Writer

Councilmembers approved a Southfield developer's request for a rezoning on Huron River Drive from residential to light industrial Oct. 22.

Developer Gerald J. Sweeney said he intends to build a new industrial park on the property, similar to Oakwood Industrial Park, which is across Eureka Road. The plan calls for a 48-acre site with expansion planned to the south for access to Eureka Road. Dennis Oakes, director of community development, said the park would provide about 20 industrial sites.

"They plan to proceed in two phases, the first being to develop the sites having access from Huron River Drive and later developing the sites closer to Eureka Road," Oakes said.

Oakes said the result of the overall development of the park would mean creation or

Mobile homes are coming

Mobile home units will soon be situated in Romulus despite the protest by community schools and several residents.

Romulus councilmembers debated a long time before deciding Oct. 22 to approve rezoning of Ecorse Road between Ecorse and Cogswell roads from residential to commercial.

Councilmember William Wadsworth was the only opposing member.

Troy resident Graham A. Orley requested the rezoning, saying its use would set up mobile homes in the city.

During the Oct. 1 council meeting, Councilmember Noah P. Bergeron Jr. was in favor of the rezoning. Bergeron said the mobile home project was a first-class operation.

"This is a good project. I move we support this," Bergeron said.

Mayor Beverly McAnally said the mobile home parks will not be a negative impact on the neighborhood. She said the city can't afford to lose any more residents.

"We've lost 2,000 people in this community. It's important to see new people. I feel this developer will provide a feeder into the community," McAnally said.

Ellis T. Pennington said he believed a trailer park would leave a bad taste in a lot of people's minds. But after visiting a sample of the owner's mobile homes, Pennington changed his mind.

"I'd be glad to connect my home with this type. There is beautiful landscaping, and it's a nice place to live," Pennington said.

Councilmember Russell R. Lambert said he thinks the mobile homes look better than some of the other developments in the city.

Mayor Pro Tem Randolph Gear said he was also hesitant at first to give his approval of the mobile homes.

"When I first heard about the homes, I was totally against them until we got to view the project," Gear said.

Gear said mobile homes will definitely come in handy, especially with the current oil crisis making local residents want to live in the area they work in order to conserve gas.

"I think this is a good move," Gear said.

Police are looking for armed robbery suspects

Romulus police are looking for two suspects who robbed McDonald's on the 9700 block of Wayne Road Oct. 11.

Detective Lt. Kenneth R. Kraus said police are looking for two black male suspects.

The robbery occurred at 11:35 p.m. Thursday after the suspects entered McDonald's. One of the suspects was armed with a handgun and the other was armed with a knife, Kraus said.

"They physically grabbed one employee," he said. "The man holding the gun told the employee to get the money out of the register. The man holding the knife approached the manager and tried to get the safe opened."

After the suspects collected an unidentified amount of money, they ran on foot to the Key Manor Apartments on Bidle Road, Kraus said. Police called in a tracking dog from Taylor. The dog sniffed the suspects all the way to the apartment complex, but lost the scent just north of the apartment complex.

No one was injured in the robbery.

Police are still investigating.

Students stay in school on Devil's Night

By MARGO DEWEY
ANP Staff Writer

All was quiet on the Romulus front during Devil's Night Tuesday.

Romulus Fire Chief William Greenslaid said his department only received a false alarm around 5 a.m. Wednesday.

While Romulus firefighters were waiting in the wings for alarms, seventh and eighth graders from Romulus Junior High School had a Devil's Night party. The purpose of the party was to keep the children off the streets on Devil's Night.

Bob LaChance, activities

director for the junior high, said this was the first year the school decided to try entertaining the students to keep them from egging and throwing toilet paper at residential homes. The activities night ran from 7 p.m. to 9 p.m. and was a huge success, according to LaChance.

"We were only going to have 150 students for the night. We sold out of tickets in two days. We are considering having more activities nights, perhaps one around Christmas time," LaChance said.

The students had a variety of activities to choose from. There were movies to watch in room 100, computer games to play in room 117, basketball and volleyball games were staged in the gym and penny boards were being built in the wood shop class.

The students had to pay only a quarter to participate. Principal Jesse Meriweather said the students needed some kind of activity like this to keep them busy.

"Kids need something to do. They need to burn off a little steam," Meriweather said.

Suspect found in local hit-and-run

By PATRICIA BROWN
ANP Staff Writer

Westland police officials believe they have found the car that hit and killed a 36-year-old Westland man Oct. 20 near the intersection of Merriman and Cherry Hill roads.

"From the evidence collected at the scene, we were able to identify the vehicle as a 1989-90 Sunbird, and from the paint that we found at the scene we were able to identify the color as red," said Officer Jon Handzlik of the Westland Police Department.

"After we received a tip that there was a red Sunbird at an apartment complex near the scene, we went there and found a 1990 Pontiac Sunbird that was red with damage that was consistent with a vehicle in the accident," Handzlik said.

Police officials were able to obtain a search warrant, then they seized the car and sent the evidence to the Michigan State Police Crime Lab, according to Handzlik.

Police are expected to arraign a 37-year-old Westland man on two counts of manslaughter later this week.

Handzlik was unable to rule out the possibility of alcohol being a factor in the accident.

Shortly after 1 a.m. Oct. 20, a 36-year-old man was run down and left to die at the side of the road, according to police. The man had been walking on the sidewalk in front of the National Bank of Detroit branch located near the intersection of Cherry Hill and Merriman. He wasn't noticed until almost two hours later when a driver saw the man laying on the grass between the sidewalk and the road.

The victim had stopped at the nearby Mobil station, bought a soda pop and then left on foot. The gas station attendant reported hearing a loud noise shortly after the victim left the gas station.

Earlier this month two other Westland residents were run down by a man driving a late model blue Mustang. The first incident occurred just south of Cherry Hill road near the driveway of the Trafalgar Apartments, critically injuring a 32-year-old Westland man. The other accident occurred in Canton Township at the Canton Crossing shopping complex. The victim was not seriously injured.

retainment of 400 to 500 jobs and a substantial increase in the Standard Equalized Valuation during the next few years.

The proposed plan is in line with the city master plan, according to Oakes. Only the front 450 feet along Huron River Drive was requested to be changed from residential to light industrial.

"The area is well-suited for industrial purposes, having close proximity to Metro Airport and nearly direct access to Interstate-275, as well as rail frontage," Oakes said.

Oakes also said the proposed industrial park would provide needed sites for the location and expansion of small manufacturing firms essential to Romulus.

Councilmember Jimmie Raspberry said he personally knows the developers (Joel and David Helfman) and would be in favor of the project.

Councilmembers approved the rezoning by a 6-1 vote with Councilmember William Wadsworth opposing.

Resident kicks way to state championships

Justin Pitel is getting a lot of kicks from his right leg.

So much so the 11-year-old Romulus resident will be competing at the Pontiac Silverdome for the 1990 Michigan Punt, Pass and Kick State Championship Competition on Nov. 4.

The event is sponsored by Pizza Hut and the Michigan Recreation and Park Association in cooperation with the Detroit Lions.

The competition will begin before the regular season Detroit Lions football game against the Washington Redskins.

Pitel is the only first place winner for Romulus for the regional competition. He also came in first for his age group at the district finals where he recently competed against dozens of youngsters from several cities in Michigan in Southgate.

"He won the district by beating all the 11 year olds of all the cities that competed," Debbie Pitel, Justin's mom, said.

Pitel will be arriving at the Pontiac Silverdome Sunday, Nov. 4, with his family. There will be 54 finalists competing against one another. There will be one punt, one pass and one place kick as part of the competition.

Pitel said he thinks he can win.

"I've been practicing all the time. Sometimes I practice an hour, sometimes two hours on my front lawn," Pitel said.

Pitel said he started kicking the football around when he was eight.

"I was playing at a friend's house, and we started kicking the ball around. It's a lot of fun," Pitel said.

Scores for the competition will be based on the combined scores for the three events which involves both accuracy and distance. Participants have to stay behind the starting line or they will receive a "0" according to game officials.

The football will be marked at the point it first touches the ground.

There will be awards presented to the top three finishers in each age division immediately following the passing competition. The top finisher in each age category will be introduced on the field to the game spectators between the third and fourth quarters.

Results of the state finals competition will be mailed to all participants the week of Nov. 12.

Pitel has been competing in the Punt, Pass and Kick competition since he was nine. He has five trophies from his winnings since 1988.

Pitel said he now plays for the Romulus Flyers football team, little league, and hopes to play on the junior varsity team next year at Romulus Junior High.

Pitel is a sixth grader at Romulus Merriman Elementary School.

Teacher retires after 25 years

Glen Duke is giving up. Duke, an English teacher at Romulus High School, retired Wednesday after 25 years of service in the school district because he says, "It's just not fun anymore."

Sitting in front of his lap-top desk computer, Duke said he started teaching because he enjoyed the students.

"A real successful teacher is one who makes the kids feel real warm and good," Duke said.

He has tried to live up to his own expectations, but now faces reality.

"I think now I'm more understanding, more compassionate. It's hard to be absolutely consistent. Students say I should treat them all the same. I say, 'You're not all the same,'" Duke said.

Duke has spent the last 15 years at Romulus High School. He taught American history and English for 10 years at Romulus Junior High School.

Each day of his teaching career, Duke said he tried to challenge himself.

"Trying to do the right thing. It's a matter of justice. Kids are entitled to be treated with respect because they are people, like adults. I tried to do right every day I went to work," Duke said.

Besides teaching, Duke designed a photography program at the junior high, which he said was his best teaching.

"I loved to see the kids develop a project. Kids can see their progress in the photographs," Duke said.

Duke said he didn't think he was as effective of a teacher at the high school then he was at the junior high. His best moments at the high school, however, were teaching special education students.

"I like the special education kids. They are so open and honest," Duke said.

Duke said he received a fan letter from one of his special education students that read, "I never write to other teachers, only to you because you talk to us," the student said.

Duke said he doesn't know what he is going to do when he retires. He said whatever he ends up doing, the work will involve helping others.

"My wife wants to go back to the Philippines to see her mother," Duke said. "I wasn't having the fun I was entitled to have. My time had just come. I'd like to leverage what I have."

Education in the 1990s has taken a change for the better, Duke said, adding there is a positive thinking in the air.

"It used to be teachers would complain in the teachers lounge about the kids and other things. Now, I hear teachers talking about teaching in a positive way," Duke said.

Duke said if he does find another job, he would like to have one that gives him the freedom on weekends.

"I've been working six days a week. It would be nice to have a job with no homework on the weekends," Duke said.

Mayor approves modernization

By MARGO DEWEY

Romulus Mayor Beverly McAnally has given the thumbs-up for Detroit Metropolitan Airport to sell $100 million in bonds for its modernization project.

McAnally said on Monday the bond sale referendum on Nov. 6 is important not only for Romulus but for the county.

"Some long-standing drain problems will be accomplished and, most importantly, jobs will be saved," McAnally said.

There are nearly 850 people in Romulus employed by and around Metro Airport, McAnally said. She said collectively these residents are paid more than $20 million each year. McAnally believes the number of employees will increase with the modernization.

The Committee for a Better Metro Airport stated in a recent brochure if the bond issue is passed, there will be an increase of 20,000 jobs.

The committee also said local cities would benefit economically: "Romulus, $105 million; Belleville, $37 million; Westland, $30 million; Wayne, $23 million; and Inkster, $14 million."

McAnally is among several Wayne County mayors and township supervisors who have endorsed the $100 million bond sale. She said although there is a noise problem, it is controllable.

"With the cooperation of our County Executive Ed McNamara, and through the recent efforts of Sen. Carl Levin, we have preserved local authority to ensure enforcement of a responsible noise mitigation policy.

"Of all the cities in Wayne County, Romulus is the only one where aircraft noise is a constant factor because of engine run-up on the ground," McAnally said.

McAnally said the noise problem can be minimized, which will allow southeast Michigan to thrive in the world market by having a modern, safe and competitive airport.

"I am satisfied the noise experienced by others in the county resulting from the change in flight paths will be remedied very soon and should allow us to get on with our promising economic future," McAnally said.

Besides the addition of employees, the modernization project would also involve a fourth north-south runway, $100 million would be spent on a 3,200-space parking structure, flood control, construction of anti-noise berms and opening of a noise-control office.

District joins state group

Romulus school board members recently agreed to join the Michigan Out-of-Formula District Association in order to be better informed of legislation that may affect the school district.

MOFDA began December 1980 with eight districts in southeast Michigan geared toward addressing urgent needs of Out-of-Formula school districts. It has now grown to a statewide organization of 100-member school districts and six associate members.

By joining the association, the Romulus school board will:

- Be part of an organization that influences the public education policy.
 - Have legislative representation in Lansing through a paid lobbyist.
 - Attend bi-monthly meetings to keep informed and to communicate with each school.
 - Increase the voice of Out-of-Formula districts as they attempt to make their concerns more clearly heard in Lansing.
 - Receive up-to-date information on legislation and other issues by calling the staffed Lansing office.
 - Have access to a major data bank that reflects Out-of-Formula issues.
- Out-of-Formula school districts receive no general state aid. Romulus raises revenue per pupil through local property taxes.

MOFDA officials said the association has accomplished a number of objectives for the Out-of-Formula districts, including:

- Bring about the special education compromise which retained resources and cooperative programs for Out-of-Formula school districts.
- Research impact of TIFAs, tax appeals and abatements on local properties and utilities, testified at legislative hearings and developed a network of districts with similar concerns.
- Support tax incentive legislation, but point out the negative impact of tax appeals, abatements and TIFAs on education.

The association continues to work on several goals. First on the list is to secure more funds for all public education. The association is also hoping to secure favorable legislation and financial support for districts which receive no general state aid.

Preventing further erosion of categorical funding is also one of the main concerns of the group, along with maintaining local control of generating and expending local tax revenues.

Wayne-Westland teachers return to the classroom

By PATRICIA BROWN
ANP Staff Writer

Wayne-Westland teachers didn't strike Monday, but they could go on strike tomorrow or the next day or the day after that - or any time the union leadership decides a strike is the only alternative.

That is what teachers agreed to Monday morning as they gathered at the Wayne Memorial auditorium for a 6 a.m. meeting. More than 1,000 Wayne-Westland teachers attended, many dressed to walk the picket line.

The bargaining committee recommended to the Wayne-Westland Education Association membership that teachers remain in the classroom. In the meantime, students waited at schools throughout the district for the final word on the vote.

The bargaining committee for the union will ask for a mediator in the contract negotiations with the district. If remaining disputes are not resolved, union leadership has been given the authority to call a strike at any time.

"We are so ready to strike, you wouldn't believe it," said one teacher who refused to be identified. "There is a great deal of anger - I've never seen people so hurt and angry."

The mediation process could take as long as four months. If a mediator is unsuccessful in resolving disputes, a fact-finder would be called in to study the situation even more closely.

The marathon bargaining sessions which took place last weekend weren't a total failure, according to representatives of both sides.

"We negotiated throughout the weekend, and we made a lot of progress. As long as we're making progress that's a good sign. We're ready to continue contract talks," said Thomas Svitekovich, associate superintendent.

The district financial problems make negotiating on economic issues a major task, Svitekovich said.

Teacher salaries in Wayne-Westland - the second-largest district in the county - are considered low when compared to other schools.

"Salary is important - it's one of those things school districts are evaluated by," said a Wayne Memorial High School teacher.

Some of the economic issues being disputed include: salary, worker's compensation and longevity pay. Other issues of concern include planning time for elementary teachers, which has been cut due to the elimination of two-thirds of the expressive arts and physical education program.

"You don't even know what it's like to have 28 kids pulling at your skirt all day - you can't even go to the bathroom," said one teacher defending the planning time for teachers.

Bus drivers waited for the decision by teachers right up until the last minute. Many students were surprised to learn that teachers decided to return to the classroom.

"I thought for sure we wouldn't have school after listening to the news on television Sunday night," said Shannon Hodgkins, a sixth-grade student at Stottlemeyer Elementary School.

Another millage campaign would be considered to help restore programs only if teachers agree to a pay freeze this year, school officials said. Union officials wanted the millage issue placed on the ballot next week.

Representatives on both sides have stated their concerns about a possible strike.

"Once you strike you've fired all your ammunition - and it's not productive," said a Wayne Memorial teacher.

Both negotiating teams were scheduled to take a break this week, with talks to resume Nov. 5.

Man convicted in local shooting

A Westland man, charged in the July 3 shooting death of a woman in a Van Buren Township mobile home park, was convicted of manslaughter in Detroit Records Court this week.

Michael McGee, 28, faces sentencing Nov. 13 on manslaughter and felony firearms charges.

McGee and the shooting victim, Lisa Gayle Pierce, 34, were temporarily living in the mobile home park where the incident occurred. McGee first told police that he and Pierce were playing a game of Russian Roulette with a .38-caliber handgun, which was the property of the trailer owner. He told police that Pierce had placed the handgun in her mouth and fired after he had taken his turn at the gun game, and claimed that she had wanted to commit suicide.

The bullet went through the victim and then the wall of the mobile home and through a neighboring home, according to police reports. McGee left the home for one hour before returning to the scene accompanied by the mobile home owner. At that time, the incident was reported to police.

During the investigation by Van Buren Township police, McGee said he had placed the gun in Pierce's mouth. Later, he confessed that the story of the suicide was a fabrication.

Manager is student role model

By MARGO DEWEY
ANP Staff Writer

Wendy V. Dixon believes students should have a role model. Dixon, branch manager for Security Bank and Trust in Romulus, is a member of Partnerships for Education, which involves 60 local businesses in Romulus. The program assists district schools with a goal of furthering education for all students.

Since Dixon's transfer to the city in 1988, she has been active not only with local residents but with the school community. "I enjoy children. I believe kids need role models. I enjoy being an influence on their lives and becoming involved. Kids have so much energy," Dixon said.

Part of Dixon's work with students involves field trips to such places as the Federal Reserve, participating in the Student-of-the-Month program at Cory Elementary and giving students banking information. "The elementary school students take an interest in how the 24-hour bank machine works and how a charge card works," Dixon said.

Dixon said the Student-of-the-Month program at Cory Elementary rewards a variety of elementary children who are selected during the year for improving in certain areas of study. These students are then given recognition through awards, which include a $50 savings bond, Dixon said.

At the high school, Dixon gives banking information to students. The high school students are eager to learn how to set up a savings account or how to apply for a loan, Dixon said. "I help the students at (Romulus High School) learn the importance of studying and getting their reports in on time. It's necessary for the students to learn what they study now will be used in the future," Dixon said.

Dixon also works with Romulus Junior High School students in a restructuring program. "The restructuring program is getting the kids in gear for the 21st century. The team spirit in the program helps kids do a better job," Dixon said.

Dixon said she is going to continue working with the schools in Romulus, helping students prepare for the turn of the century.

Students learn science on 'Space Night'

By RANDY FRANK
ANP Staff Writer

For rocket scientists, calculating a person's weight on the moon is a normal task.

But for fifth-grade students at Allen Elementary, it was just a warm-up for bigger and better things at "Space Night" Friday.

Students in Marjane Baker's and Gail Maloney's classes wrapped up their "space, sun and stars" science lesson.

Observing the moon with a telescope and launching a model rocket were among the many student activities during the four-hour, after-school affair, according to Baker.

"The kids were really enthusiastic about the event," Baker said. "We received plenty of support from parents, who helped make Space Night possible."

Children watched in awe as one parent launched a model rocket to kick off the festivities. Students then had the opportunity to conduct experiments at 14 space work stations in the school.

Activities at the station included computing human weights on the moon.

New technology to link schools in emergency

By MARGO DEWEY
ANP Staff Writer

A new wave in technology is about to give birth in Wayne County.

About four Wayne County schools and several foster care homes will soon be hooked to a county emergency message system. The system is being hooked up so officials from schools and adult foster care homes near the Enrico Fermi Unit 2 Nuclear Power Plant can be notified immediately if there is an emergency.

Wayne County commissioners recently approved $49,392 for the Emergency Management Division of Wayne County to purchase tone alert receivers which will link schools and adult foster care homes with the County Emergency Operation Center.

The school districts involved include Flat Rock, Rockwood, Gibraltar and Brownstown.

Mark Sparks, director of the county Emergency Management Division, said there is a need for a more efficient means of contacting individuals besides using the telephone. Right now, only a loud siren alerts neighboring businesses and homes in the event of a disaster at the nuclear plant.

"To only contact by telephone and have local police dispatch as a backup means of communication, we've come to the conclusion there is a bit of a waste of resources," Sparks said.

Sparks said the tone alert receiver has the capability of notifying school and foster care officials of an emergency at the same time.

"Once the transmitter is hooked up, if there is an emergency, it sets off a tone and prints a message from the county offices to the schools and foster care homes on the receiver," Sparks said. "If the schools have to close down, the administration can take the receiver with them."

Sparks said school bus drivers will also be given a receiver. He said drivers have a planned route during an emergency, but if the route couldn't be used, a message would warn them in a matter of seconds.

"Each receiver costs $600. We have 40 of them on order. The other portion of the money is for the transmitter," Sparks said.

Sparks said the transmitter will either be set up in the Penobscot Building in Detroit or at the communication office at Detroit Metropolitan Airport.

When the county receives the beepers, Sparks said all school and foster care officials will have to go through a training process. The receivers will become part of the regular emergency tests practiced by the county once a month.

"The rationale for purchasing the receivers is if you have to call 40 places, it takes a lot of time. With the tone alert receivers, one message hits everybody," Sparks said.

Sparks said the receivers will also be given to police and fire departments, so if a message goes out to the schools, it will also go to local authorities.

Resident to review youth books

By JOAN DYER-ZINNER
Belleville City Editor

Ginger Bruder's best qualification for reviewing children's books is she is a child at heart.

Bruder, who will begin weekly reviews of children's literature in this edition, is a former teacher and publisher's representative. She has a lifelong enthusiasm for reading and a dedication to encouraging youngsters to appreciate good literature.

"Yes, I'm a kid at heart," Bruder said. "I love working with children at the annual Halloween party and other holiday events and enjoy helping with the parades and floats."

"I was an avid reader as a child, and I want to promote the importance of reading and encourage children to share my love of books. One of my first priorities when I opened by shop was to make good literature available for children, a need that hadn't been addressed in the Belleville area before."

Bruder said she regularly presents school book fairs and hosts reading programs at her gift and specialty shop, Miss Ginger's on Main Street. The children's book room is one of the most popular attractions at her shop, and Bruder regularly plans events for children. For example, youngsters will make Santa Claus paper dolls, and she will begin a child's class in early 1991.

Bruder, who currently resides in Willis, taught high school and adult education classes for eight years before stepping into a position as a publisher's representative. Her duties included selling textbooks and computer software to high school and post-secondary institutions and making presentations to instructors.

Area educator discusses fate of schools, children

William Bedell isn't your typical school superintendent. Bedell, 56, plays basketball every week with players half his age, attends dozens of lectures and even manages to teach a few classes.

He has been an educator for 34 years - 23 in Livonia and the past 11 in Romulus as school superintendent.

In this interview, the outspoken administrator discusses the court system, school financing and the future of education.

William Bedell

ASSOCIATED NEWSPAPERS: Talk about the decision by Romulus Community Schools to join a lawsuit initiated by a state group of out-of-formula school districts.

WILLIAM BEDELL: We need to work with the in-formula school districts to make the people who are making the decisions for the past 25 years understand education is the priority. They can reduce their costs of prisons. They can reduce their welfare costs.

I suspect in the long run, those people in Lansing do not have enough courage to deal with this problem. That recapture formula is fair. It is based on the richer you are and the lower your effort, the more you have to give back. If you want to spend a lot of money on your kids, you should be willing to tax yourself to do it. The problem with the current system is it is just the opposite. The more money you spend on your kids, the less money you tax yourselves.

ANP: If you were elected state superintendent today, what would be the first thing you would do in office?

WB: I would form a Blue Ribbon Committee and force a consensus recommendation on the way we're going to finance schools. I would also start a campaign to have a constitutional convention. It has been 25 years since the last convention and we are a different state have a child that is bright, one who is in trouble, we will change their lives without affecting the tax base.

ANP: You have been outspoken on a number of issues in the past. Define the role of a school superintendent.

WB: They should act like I act. We have an obligation to advocate for the people. They didn't hire me to get a better job in another school district for more money. They hired me to represent them. Being a superintendent is like being a priest or a head of the chamber of commerce. It's got a lot of combinations, but its major component is the responsibility to advocate for the children of this district.

ANP: What are the priorities in education today?

WB: The No. 1 priority is to straighten out school finances. The difference between a good school system and a bad school system is money. You cannot do the things you want to do if you are not adequately funded. We have to do something about preparing our elementary children in the basics, especially in places like Detroit and Romulus.

ANP: What about a school drug problem?

WB: We have a drug problem in this community and so far we have, for the most part, kept it out of our schools. When it's time to learn, inside our walls, we do not have a significant drug problem.

now. At the same time, I would start a campaign to have our entire judicial system appointed for life to free them so they can have the luxury of their own integrity.

Take a minute and think of one single decision the Supreme Court of Michigan has made that made you happy or sad. I can remember numerous times the United States Supreme Court made decisions which affected me, but you can't say the same about Michigan because they never get involved in anything critical.

ANP: Why should Romulus residents approve two bond proposals on Nov. 6?

WB: Because it's going to change their kids' lives. If you

Former news editor dies

By TOM MOORADIAN
ANP Staff Writer

As the Crime Bureau Chief for The Detroit Times, Henry Cantin launched the careers of many a cub reporter.

"Whenever a new reporter would come aboard," said Mitch Kehetian, managing editor of The Macomb Daily, "he was assigned to Henry. You know that Henry would teach the kid how to cover the beat, to dig for the good stuff."

"He was demanding and could be tough. But young reporters always felt comfortable around him."

Kehetian should know. He was one of a score of outstanding newspaper men who became Mr. Cantin's proteges."

When the Times ceased operation in November of 1960, Mr. Cantin found himself without a job - but not for long. He started several publications before he was offered the position of managing editor of the Wayne Eagle.

Mr. Cantin, 80, died on October 20 at Providence Hospital. Services were conducted at Lents Funeral Home and St. Mary's Church in Wayne, the Father Ray Bucon officiating. Interment was in St. Mary's Cemetery in Wayne.

Mr. Cantin's newspaper career spanned 60 years.

"He was proud of his work and of the people in the profession," said Michael Cantin, one of two surviving adult children. "He never took a journalism class in his life, he learned through experience."

"And he was a very caring, loving person," Michael added.

Born in Montreal, Canada in 1909, Mr. Cantin was the seventh of nine children. The family moved to Detroit in April of 1912. However, at the age of 11, Mr. Cantin lost his father (1921), then his mother (1922).

Mr. Cantin attended Catholic schools - Holy Rosary and Sacred Heart Seminary - before attending St. Thomas Aquinas in Columbus, Ohio.

In 1927, Mr. Cantin began his long and successful newspaper career. He was hired as a reporter for the fledgling Walled Street News in Detroit in 1927 and, two years later, joined the staff of the Detroit Times. Before making the move to the Times, he married Lucille Hobart, a marriage that lasted 55 years until Lucille's death in November of 1986. The marriage produced three children - Mary Donna, Thomas R. and Michael.

After the demise of the Times, Mr. Cantin published the short-lived Detroit World, a newspaper that was supposed to fill in the void created by The Times' closing. It was short-lived. He went on to start the Marina News, a publication devoted to boats and boating which remains in existence to this day.

In 1963, the publishers of the Associated Newspapers - Wesley Willett and Raymond Clift - invited Mr. Cantin to join the Associated Newspapers.

Mr. Cantin served on the ANP staff in a wide range of duties, including covering the Wayne City Hall and police beat.

Former city of Wayne Mayor Paul Lada remembers Mr. Cantin as "a man of integrity."

"Mr. Cantin was the best reporter that ever covered Wayne," Lada said. "He wasn't the kind of reporter who waited for the news to come to him - he went and dug for it. And you could trust him explicitly."

"Journalism and newspapers have lost a true and devoted professional," Lada added.

Opinion

Congratulations for making the right decision

Wayne-Westland teachers voted Monday to return to the classroom without a contract.

It was the right decision for all concerned and they should be commended.

Now, students in Wayne-Westland schools will continue to learn, they will be kept busy and they will be challenged.

Fights over money, planning periods, etc. will not curtail the learning process for now.

But, now is the time to negotiate - both sides in good faith - for a resolution to this mess.

Teachers must come to realize the financial limitations of a district without money, and the administration must do its best to show gratitude to the teachers.

The editorial published last week in The Associated Newspapers created quite a stir. After a meeting of all those staff members involved, that opinion stands. It is just that, however, an opinion - one viewpoint. It is America and everyone is free to have one.

We publish readers' opinions every week in our letters to the editor column and we will continue to do so.

Just as our opinion of last week stands. We are willing to look at recent events and congratulate teachers on their decision to remain in the classroom.

Just as we admonish those we believe are doing an injustice, we applaud those who take just action.

As the saga of teacher negotiations continue in Wayne-Westland schools, we hope for a quick resolution.

We hope for these things for the benefit of all involved, but first and foremost for the students who have taken the back seat through this entire process.

Infant mortality is most appalling crime of society

Inkster residents recently gathered for the presentation of a startling film depicting the delivery of an infant addicted to crack cocaine.

To see such a horrible thing is alarming. To know that such things happen every day in the Metro Detroit area is sickening.

All expectant mothers should be forced to witness this film and all should be informed and re-informed about the importance of maintaining a "clean" lifestyle throughout pregnancy - if not all the time.

Every action taken by the expectant mother has an effect on the child she carries within her body.

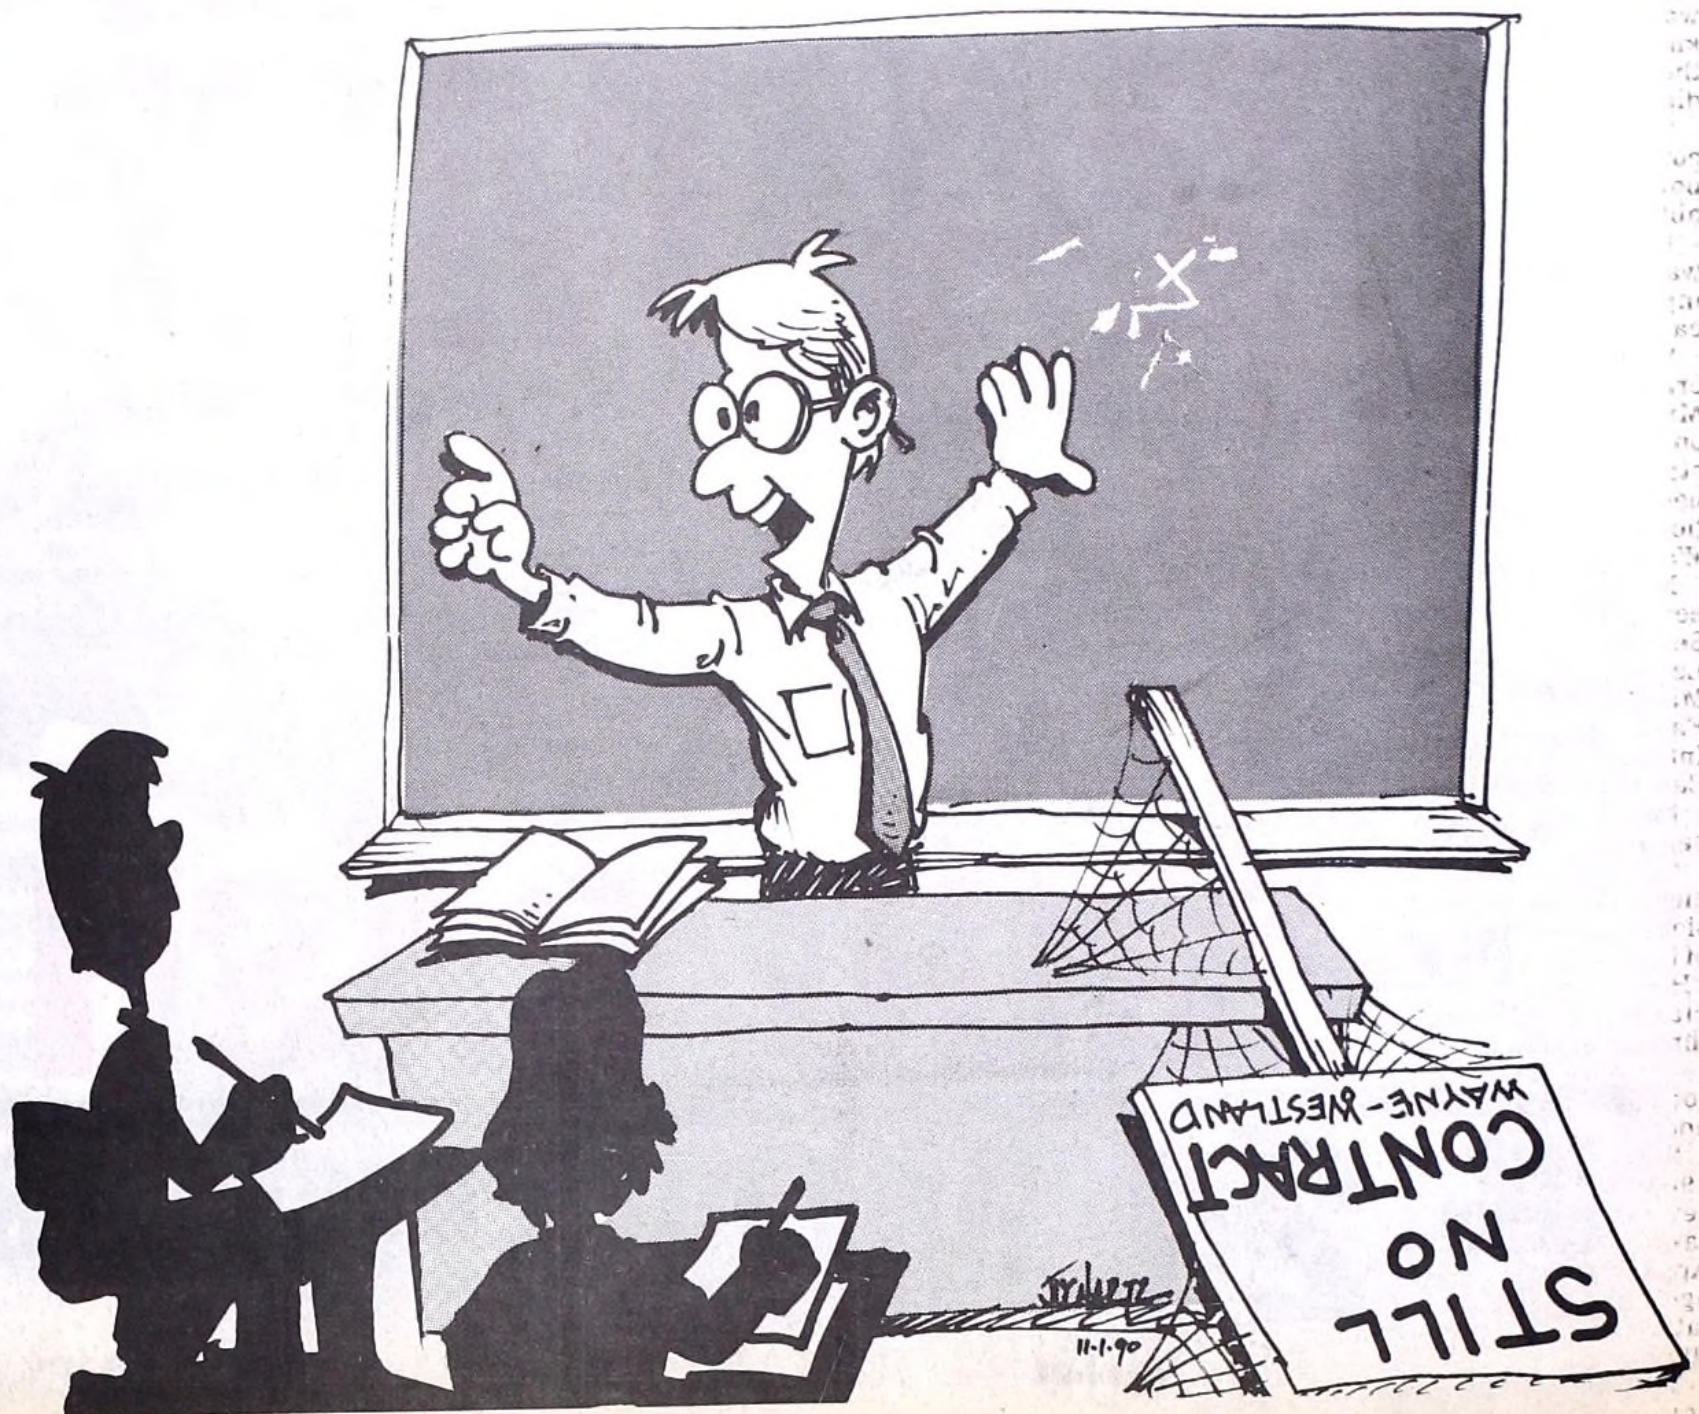

Drugs, of course, are the worse. An expectant mother who continues to use drugs is exposing her child to drugs. Babies are born every day with an addiction to an illegal substance. Some die right away, others survive. The survivors, however, go through months and years of withdrawal. Their pain is something most adults could not even understand.

Alcohol and cigarettes - although not as severe - also have terrible effects on an unborn child. Such substances can affect birth weight, features and mental capability.

Beyond these well-known factors in infant mortality, there are other more simple things which may not kill an infant, but may prove harmful to the mother and child. Poor diet, lack of sleep and lack of proper prenatal care may all impact the mother's, as well as the child's, health.

An areawide program must be offered to all high-risk and teen-age mothers-to-be. Transportation must make the program accessible and doctors must be made available to help provide prenatal care.

It is an educational process which must begin now, for the image of a baby born with an addiction to drugs or other disorder created by the mother will not soon leave our minds or our hearts.

STILL A TEACHER, CONTRACT OR NO CONTRACT

Editorial was appalling

I was appalled upon reading your editorial of Oct. 25, 1990. It is frightening to me that someone I assume is an educated person would:

- Tout the simplistic idea that what is good for teachers is bad for children;
- Run the good old "guilt trip" routine on teachers, when it is the community which refuses to even renew millage;
- Assume we have three months "vacation time" plus all those days off during the year and we work at most seven or eight hours a day. By the same token I could assume as an editor all you do is give orders and chit-chat with the "in-people", maybe a good four-hour day. I don't assume this;
- Recommend another "Crestwood solution" - fire all the teachers.

Thank goodness, Editor Wilson, you do have a reporter doing your front-page who seems to be doing a fair impartial job of reporting both sides of this dilemma.

There is so much in my outrage. I would like to say - as I watch the value of my house go down daily.

I do agree that parents and teachers are important to children, but "lack of genuine understanding on the part of the teachers?"

If you really would like to know what goes on in that scanty seven- to eight-hour day, Editor Wilson come follow me around for a day. Better yet, follow one of the WWCS Troubadors, (music teachers) in the elementary schools. Nothing introduces you to the real world faster than 29 to 30 different classes of children in one week.

Liz Potter
teacher, Westland

(Note from the Editor: We did support passage of the most recent millage increase for Wayne-Westland Community Schools. I have 10 days of vacation each year. Our reporters' responsibility is to be impartial. It is the responsibility of the editorialist to present one point of view.)

Teachers deserve more respect

As a career educator, who has been proud to serve the kids and the community of the Wayne-Westland community for almost a quarter century, I have often been told that the teaching profession does not receive the respect that it deserves, considering the difficult tasks that are involved in providing a quality educational experience for the youth of the community.

It has been my experience that my teaching colleagues in the Wayne-Westland schools have constantly "delivered the goods" to the kids. Implicit in this delivery is a striving to inspire excellence in the students that come to the school environment.

I was saddened to read that your publication chooses to portray myself and my colleagues involved in education in Wayne-Westland as over-paid and under-worked employees. Your portrayal of the professional educators in this community does a disservice to many. The "hatchet" cartoon was most insulting to educators of the community. I have strived for excellence from the youth in the community, it is unfortunate that the community newspaper is satisfied with something less than mediocrity in editorial content, both written and pictorially.

Please cancel my subscription to the poorest excuse for a journalistic endeavor that I have witnessed.

Just Desserts

Sue Willett

It just isn't fair.

Somebody up there either just doesn't like me, really messed up on this one or has a real mean streak. But no matter what the situation, this still isn't fair.

Why would the powers that be torment me by providing this terrific wit, and then make sure it only works after the fact? Seriously, I can always think of snappy rejoinders, great quips and unbelievably clever remarks after the opportunity to use them has passed. My vocabulary is peppered with the phrase, "If only I'd said..." I'm getting real tired of being posthumously clever.

Nobody has any idea of the great responses I've thought of to comments made to me. That's because I usually don't think of them until about two days later when I ought to be concentrating on something else entirely. I need one of those time-delay switches, so I can really level people with my devastatingly clever mind.

The closest I ever get to having some of these terrific witticisms and demonstrations of my superior intellect witnessed is usually while driving in heavy traffic. Somehow, the most ingenious comments seem to be prompted by my fellow drivers. Of course, I do get a number of stares as I drive down the road, alone in my vehicle, talking to myself.

As it is, nobody has any idea of the rapier-like mind that lurks beneath my quiet facade.

Right now, for instance, I can think of at least 12 remarks I should have made when interviewed by Denny McClain on his radio show last week which would have leveled the guy and caused a mass audience call-in applauding my superior mind.

Alas, "Thank you, Denny," isn't among them.

Pecan crisps

- 1 1/4 cup chopped pecans
- 2 1/3 cups all-purpose flour
- 1/2 teaspoon baking soda
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1/2 cup unsalted butter, slightly softened
- 1/2 cup packed light brown sugar
- 1/2 cup confectioners' sugar
- 1 large egg
- 1/2 cup vegetable oil
- 1 teaspoon vanilla extract

Preheat the oven to 325 degrees. Spread pecans in a single layer in a large baking pan and toast in the oven for 7 to 8 minutes, stirring occasionally until fragrant and browned. Set aside to cool. Stir together flour, baking soda and salt. In a large mixing bowl cream butter and sugars. Add egg, oil and vanilla and beat until well mixed. Add dry ingredients and mix well. Stir in half of toasted, cooled pecans. Cover and refrigerate dough for 1 hour. Divide dough in half. Lay each half on a 15-inch sheet of waxed paper and shape into smooth 2-inch diameter logs. Sprinkle half of remaining pecans over each log, pressing and patting them into surface. Wrap logs tightly and freeze for 4 hours, or until very firm. Preheat oven to 375 degrees. Cut frozen dough into 1/4-inch slices and place 1 1/2 inches apart on greased baking sheet. Immediately place in upper third of oven and bake for 9 to 11 minutes, or until nicely colored and slightly darker around edges. Cool cookies on wire racks.

Pizza

with personality

It is probably the most popular snack and meal in the United States.

Thousands of teens crowd into pizzerias each week in an attempt to find the best pizza pie available. Adults are also lured by the sumptuous smells and delightful toppings available.

The variations on this food item are endless. They are suitable for lunch, dinner or snack, and have been known to be munched on for breakfast - cold of course.

The following is a list of some favorite methods for preparing pizzas of all sorts. In most cases, a store-bought pizza sauce will do as a topping, but experimentation with tomato sauces are also fun.

Pizza Turnovers

- 1 tablespoon cornmeal
- 1 10-ounce package pizza crust dough
- 1 1/2 cup mozzarella cheese
- 1/2 cup pizza sauce
- 1 4-ounce package Canadian bacon
- 1 carrot, shredded
- 2 tablespoons Parmesan cheese

Grease cookie sheet, sprinkle with cornmeal. Unroll dough on sheet and cut into quarters. Sprinkle cheese on a diagonal half of each quarter and top with pizza sauce, Canadian bacon and carrot. Fold each quarter in half diagonally. Press edges firmly, cut slits in top and sprinkle with parmesan. Bake at 350 degrees for 25 minutes.

Caravan pizzas

- 3 8-ounce packages refrigerator crescent dinner rolls
- 1 15-ounce can tomato-herb sauce
- 1/2 pound mozzarella, sliced
- 1 tablespoon bottled herb-garlic dressing
- 1 tablespoon grated Parmesan cheese

Preheat oven to 375 degrees. Lightly grease two cookie sheets or a 15-by-10-by-1-inch jelly roll pan. Spread out roll of dough. Cut large rectangles apart. Press dough together at perforations to make 12 rectangular portions in all. Arrange on cookie sheets. Roll up two opposite ends of each rectangle about 1 inch to form a rim. Spoon about 1 1/2 tablespoons tomato sauce over each rectangle. Cut each cheese slice into four strips. Arrange four strips on each rectangle. Sprinkle each with dressing and cheese. Bake 15 minutes.

Pizza frank sandwiches

- 1 beaten egg
- 1/4 cup milk
- 3/4 cup soft bread crumbs
- 1/4 cup grated Parmesan cheese

- 2 tablespoons snipped parsley
- 1/2 teaspoon garlic salt
- 1/2 pound bulk Italian sausage
- 1/2 pound ground beef
- 6 frankfurters
- 1 8-ounce can pizza sauce
- 2 tablespoons chopped onion
- 2 tablespoons sliced olives
- 6 frankfurter buns, sliced
- 1/3 cup shredded mozzarella cheese

Combine egg and milk, stir in crumbs, Parmesan, parsley, garlic salt and dash pepper. Add sausage and beef, mix thoroughly. Divide into six equal portions. Shape meat around frankfurters, leaving ends open; roll each between waxed paper to make of uniform thickness. Chill. In a saucepan, combine pizza sauce, onion and olives. Simmer uncovered for five minutes stirring occasionally. Grill frankfurters over medium coals about five minutes or until meat is set. Turn and grill 10 minutes more until meat is done. Brush with pizza sauce mixture during last five minutes. Toast buns. Serve franks on buns. Spoon remaining sauce on top and sprinkle with cheese.

Pepperoni pizza with pineapple and green pepper

- For crust:
- 2 packages dry yeast
 - pinch of sugar
 - 1/4 cup warm water
 - 3 1/2 cups all-purpose flour
 - 1 teaspoon salt
 - 1/4 cup olive oil
 - 1 cup warm water

- For topping:
- 4 ounces pepperoni
 - 1 green pepper, seeded
 - 1 8-ounce can unsweetened pineapple chunks
 - 3/4 pound whole milk mozzarella cheese
 - 3 tablespoons pesto (optional)
 - 4 teaspoons yellow cornmeal

- For sauce:
- 1 12-ounce can tomato paste
 - 1/2 cup tomato sauce
 - 4 garlic cloves, minced

- 1 tablespoon basil
- 1/4 teaspoon oregano
- 1 teaspoon sugar

For the crust: Dissolve the yeast and sugar in 1/4 cup warm water. Measure the flour and salt into a large bowl. Add the yeast mixture and olive oil, mixing well. Add the warm water slowly, stirring until the dough can be handled. Turn the dough onto a lightly floured surface and knead it for 10 minutes, or until the dough is smooth and elastic. Place the dough in a lightly greased bowl, turning once to grease top. Cover and let rise in a warm place until doubled in size, 1 to 1 1/2 hours.

For the sauce: In a medium-sized pan, combine all sauce ingredients. Simmer over low heat for five to 10 minutes, stirring frequently. Remove from heat and set aside.

For the toppings: Slice the pepperoni into thin slices. Chop the green pepper. Drain the pineapple chunks and slice in half. Shred the mozzarella in a bowl. If desired, mix pesto with cheese and stir well. Refrigerate until needed.

When the dough has risen, punch down and knead lightly on a floured surface. Divide the dough in half and roll out to fit 12-inch pizza pan. Sprinkle 2 teaspoons of cornmeal on a lightly greased pizza pan and place the dough on the pan, turning the edges to create a rim. Spread half of tomato sauce on the pizza. Arrange half of the pepperoni slices and the green pepper on top. Place a few pineapple chunks on the pizza and top with half the cheese.

Cook the pizza on the lowest oven rack in an oven preheated to 500 degrees for about 10 minutes. Makes two pizzas.

Best bowl of onion soup found at Northville eatery

By BARBARA WILSON
ANP Managing Editor

One of the most luscious bowls of French onion soup around is at O'Sheehan's restaurant in Northville.

Located on Seven Mile Road, O'Sheehan's features soups, salads, pizzas, pastas and their world-famous burgers.

None of their menu items, however, can compare to the crock of onion soup which they presented to me on my last visit.

Topped with mounds of mozzarella cheese and huge croutons, the onion soup was a meal in itself. Once I broke through this delicious topping,

I found a rich broth filled with onions.

Most onion soup is graced with a few onion slices at the bottom of the crock, but this masterpiece was filled with them. My companion was not particularly pleased with my breath after this extravaganza, but personally I didn't care, for I had tasted the best onion soup ever.

Not to overlook the rest of the meal, my mate ordered a hamburger topped with cheese and mushrooms. He said it was a little on the dry side.

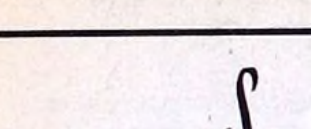

We selected the house dressing for our salads. It was a wonderful parmesan pepper concoction that pleased the palate.

From previous trips to O'Sheehan's, I can recommend the pizza which is prepared with a delicious tomato sauce. A variety of unusual toppings are available, as well as the standards.

The chicken fettucine alfredo is also quite good.

MING TOMBS & THE GREAT WALL

Just a few hours away by bus from Beijing (or a short helicopter ride) and the Ming Tombs. Spread over 15 square miles, these 13 Imperial Tombs date from the 15th through the 17th centuries. Each vault consists of an underground palace, a 'soul tower' and a sacrificial hall, all surrounded by a wall. You can visit Ding Ling, the only excavated tomb, and view the underground palace with its three great halls and passages to other chambers. Each marble door to the palace weighs four tons.

You can combine this visit with a stopover at the most popular part of the Great Wall of China at Badaling. Started in the 5th century B.C., the 4000 mile long wonder is wide enough at the top for 5 horsemen and 10 soldiers to walk abreast. The Great Wall was one of the only man-made landmarks clearly recognizable to the Apollo astronauts. A souvenir 'must' from any trip to China is your own photo taken on the Great Wall!

Elizabeth Pajor of Wayne became the bride of Robert E. Wilson III, also of Wayne, in a 6 p.m. ceremony Oct. 19 at St. Paul of the Cross Church in Detroit.

The Rev. Andrew Lane officiated at the double-ring ceremony.

The bride was given in marriage by her mother, Peggy Pajor of Wayne and by her brother, James H. Pippert.

Bernice C. Russian was the organist.

The bride chose a Victorian-style gown of ivory satin and lace with a long train and veil. She carried a bouquet of multicolored flowers.

Roberta Christine Wilson, sister-in-law of the bride, was matron of honor. She wore a gown with an emerald green bodice over an ivory chiffon skirt.

Bridesmaids were Lee Ann Mull, Kelly Leigh Cashion, and Teresa Sanger. Their gowns matched the matron of honor's.

Playoff-bound

Rout of Crestwood puts Robichaud into Class B post-season tourney

By TOM MOORADIAN
ANP Staff Writer

A record-setting performance by senior tailback Tyrone Wheatley powered Dearborn Heights Robichaud past Crestwood 60-18 Friday afternoon and put the Suburban Athletic Conference football champions in the Class B playoffs.

Wheatley rushed for an amazing 344 yards on 18 carries and scored six touchdowns to add two more records to his personal achievements at Robichaud.

"He is and has been awesome this year," Robichaud Coach Bob Yauck said. "Wheatley is accomplishing his feats with less time spent on the field than his predecessors."

We were looking at Riverview or Marine City as possible playoff opponents. We didn't expect Lutheran North. We are going to have to do our homework fast on them.

— Bob Yauck
Robichaud coach

Wheatley now holds six Robichaud records including: Most points scored by an individual player in one season (190), most all-purpose yards, 1,351, in one season, 3,598 career yards, 422 career points, plus the two records set against Crestwood.

The victory, the eighth in nine games for Robichaud, clinched a playoff berth for the Bulldogs for the second time in five years.

At 1:30 p.m. Saturday, Robichaud will host Lutheran North in the first round of the playoffs.

"They're a surprise," Yauck said. "We were looking at Riverview or Marine City as possible opponents. Then all of a sudden Lutheran North surfaces. We're going to have to do some homework very quick to find out about them."

"However, they have an 8-1 record. And you got to respect any team with that kind of record."

Tigers trounce Romulus

By TOM MOORADIAN
ANP Staff Writer

Belleville got busy Friday against Romulus, routing the visiting Tigers for the first time in five years 35-0.

Ron Hunter's 80-yard kickoff return set the tone for Coach Sam Villa and the Tigers (5-4) and dropped Romulus to 0-9.

"Our kids came to play," Villa said. "They knew I had not beaten a team coached by Dan Henry, and they gave me this one as a present."

The victory stretched the Tigers' winning streak to three games.

This could have been a truly outstanding year," Villa said. "When you consider that Wyandotte, which qualified for the playoffs, beat us 7-6, and Fordson (15-12) and Wayne (19-13) barely got by us, a few breaks and we could have finished 8-1."

Hunter, an 18-year-old senior, is considered by Wolverine 'A' coaches as one of the finest all-around players in the conference. He also scored the Tigers' second TD on a 12-yard run. That score came with 3:11 remaining in the opening quarter and capped an eight-play, 61-yard drive, engineered by senior quarterback Todd Yocum.

Yocum accounted for four of five point-after.

Belleville scored one touchdown in each of the final three quarters of the season.

In the second quarter, senior running back Chris Zaccaria scored from the one-yard line to finish a 60-yard drive. In the third period, Zaccaria bolted off guard and sprinted 60 yards for a touchdown on the Tigers' second possession of the quarter.

A broken play provided the Tigers with a fourth quarter touchdown. Mike Komaromi, who took over the QB slot from Yocum in the final quarter, pitched to tailback Lee Bradford, who fumbled the ball but managed to scoop it up in time and race 58 yards for the touchdown.

Romulus had its problems on offense against a fired-up Belleville defense, led by defensive ends Shawn LaMothe and Brian Cantrell. The visitors failed to penetrate the Tiger 25-yard line.

Linebacker Steve Wygonik and cornerback David Boyd also turned in exceptional performances on defense.

"I am disappointed that we didn't give them a better game," Henry said. "However, I am not disappointed in my team. These are young and upcoming players. Next year, we will be a team to contend with. I am sure of that."

Sophomore runs 3rd at regional

By TOM MOORADIAN
ANP Staff Writer

Belleville sophomore Anne Gray gave Ann Arbor Pioneer seniors Bridgette Mann and Sylvia Marino a hard race at the 1990 Class A regional cross country championships Saturday at Southgate Anderson.

Gray, 14, coming off a sparkling victory at the Wolverine 'A' Conference the week before, kept pace with Mann and Marino for 2 miles before Mann pulled away and took the lead, leaving Marino and Gray to fight for second place.

Mann captured her second straight gold medal with a stunning 18:29 finish. Her teammate, Marino, crossed the finish line in second (19:02) and Gray finished third (19:08).

"Anne ran an excellent race," Belleville Coach Sam Vicchy said. "In fact, our kids ran well."

Gray and Carmelita Martell, a 15-year-old Belleville sophomore who finished 10th, qualified for the Class A state championships. The state finals will be conducted Saturday on the University of Michigan Golf Course in Ann Arbor.

Pioneer won the team regional with 36 points. Dearborn Edsel Ford (105) and Monroe (118) placed second and third and also qualified for the state.

Following the top three teams in the final standings were: Trenton (135), Belleville (141), Wyandotte (166), Woodhaven (173), Dearborn (238), Ypsilanti (243), Ann Arbor Huron (256), Lincoln Park (261), Adrian (297), Carlson (334) and Temperance Bedford (354).

day at the University of Michigan Golf Course. Kidwell finished ninth in a field of more than 100 regional runners. He was clocked at 16:36. Adams was 18th thanks to a 16:50 run. three teams in each regional will challenge for the team championship.

John Button of Dearborn High edged Ann Arbor Pioneer runner Mike Milliman by four-tenths of a second to win the gold medal. Button ran a 16:01, while Milliman recorded a 16:05.

The unofficial final standings for the Class A regional men's division were as follows: Ann Arbor Pioneer (52), Monroe (57), Dearborn (84), Ann Arbor Huron (155), Belleville (162), Wyandotte (167), Adrian (173), Bedford (192), Woodhaven (227), Edsel Ford (255), Romulus (278), Trenton (307), Taylor Truman (351) and Taylor Center (389).

Trenton overpowers Belleville tankers

Trenton, the defending Wolverine 'A' Conference swim champ, remains the team to beat as the Trojans last week swept all 11 events in a lopsided 140-46 victory over Belleville.

"They are just phenomenal," said first-year Belleville High Coach Matt Kirschner, who takes his 4-2 conference record into preliminaries tonight. "I don't see anyone upsetting their title plans."

It was the second straight conference loss by the Tigers, who won their first four dual meets.

Belleville is seated third in the conference, two losses behind undefeated Trenton and one loss behind Monroe. The Tigers would like to finish the season in third, according to Kirschner.

"We head into the championships with two losses, however, we also have lost a couple of key swimmers from our lineup, which jeopardizes our chances even further. If we can hang on to third, I know our kids would be happy."

The 1990 championships will be hosted at Wayne Memorial this week. Preliminaries for the diving and swim events will be staged at 5 p.m. Nov. 8. The finals are scheduled for the following evening at 6.

The Tigers have a potential conference champ in 100-yard butterflyer Kristin Curtis.

"I feel Kristin has a chance to finish among the medalists," Kirschner said. "She is an exceptional swimmer."

Curtis has been clocked in the event in 1:09.0. If she can shave three-tenths of a second off her time she will also qualify for regional competition, according to time standards set by the Michigan High School Athletic Association.

Romulus continues to rule Canadians

By TOM MOORADIAN
ANP Staff Writer

Romulus women's basketball team beat Essex, Ontario, Friday night for the eighth consecutive time 47-23.

With Carmita Brown out of the lineup because of a family emergency, the Eagles still had enough scoring power to handle the taller but inexperienced Essex team.

Sue Molenda sank six of her 10 points in the first period to stake Romulus to a 19-9 first-period lead, and she tossed in four more points as the Eagles shut out Essex in the second period.

Molenda, hurting with a leg injury, sat out the entire second half and watched from the bench as her teammates overwhelmed Essex.

"We did not play exceptionally well," said Romulus Coach Tim Cullen. "We had enough, despite the absence of Brown and the part-time use of Molenda, to win this game."

Essex is scheduled to play Romulus in a 4 p.m. Friday rematch.

Romulus also managed to shoot down the Flyers from Willow Run 59-24 last week. The Eagles broke open a close game in the final two minutes of the second period when they went on an 8-0 run for a 29-17 advantage at halftime.

In that run, Jennifer Daniel, Kim Hopewell, Kelly Tessin and Molenda each scored baskets.

Kim Hopewell finished the game with 14 points and eight steals, while her sister, Angi, contributed 11 points and had five steals. Tessin, in her first varsity start, added 10 points, six rebounds and three steals.

The Eagles are back in action in Ann Arbor at 7 p.m. tonight when they clash with Huron in their final South Central Conference game.

Tigers qualify Kidwell, Adams for state

By TOM MOORADIAN

Although they finished fifth, two Belleville runners qualified for the Class A state cross country championship.

Jason Kidwell and Troy Adams will represent the Tigers and Coach Dave Medley's team at the finals Saturday at the University of Michigan Golf Course.

Kidwell finished ninth in a field of more than 100 regional runners. He was clocked at 16:36. Adams was 18th thanks to a 16:50 run. The top 20 runners, excluding the members of the teams that finished in the top three, qualify to compete for the state title. The top

With four players reaching double figures, Inkster buried River Rouge 64-24 last Thursday to claim the title outright. The closest rival, Oak Park, has at least two losses. Inkster shut out Rouge 16-0 in the first period and increased its advantage to 24-9 in the second period.

Leatrice Scott and Shonette Lamar each scored 15 points, while Tequan Abney and LaTonya McMillan chipped in with 10 apiece.

It was almost the same story against Highland Park earlier in the week. Lamar sank eight of 11 points in the first period to help the Vikings to a 16-2 lead.

That lead was never challenged the rest of the game as the Vikings outscored the Parkers 26-7 in the second period to grab a commanding 42-9 lead at the half. The subs mopped up 18-8 and 10-1 for the Vikings in the second half.

Scott and Lamar accounted for 15 and 11 points, respectively, although they played less than 10 minutes.

Playoffs

In a wild first quarter against Crestwood, the Chargers refused to bend. In fact, the visitors led 12-7 after the first quarter on a couple of Robichaud turnovers that set up touchdowns.

Crestwood drew first blood when Robichaud quarterback Andy Parham fumbled at mid-field. The Chargers recovered. Fourteen plays later, Crestwood tailback Ali Safiedine scored from the one.

Wheatley then took charge. After the ensuing kickoff, Parham handed off to Wheatley on an option and Wheatley raced 63 yards for a touchdown. He then kicked the extra point.

Crestwood came right back and erased the 7-6 deficit when Safiedine caught a short pass and meandered 77 yards for a touchdown with less than 25 seconds remaining in the first quarter.

It took six plays into the second quarter for Wheatley to surface with the go-ahead touchdown. He culminated a six-play, 53-yard drive with a 20-yard TD run.

The never-say-die Chargers came right back and scored on Chuck Reynolds' 56-yard run to again take a 18-14 lead.

Sonny Cooper gave the Bulldogs excellent field position with a 23-yard kickoff return that put the ball at the Bulldog 47. Then, on the first play from scrimmage, Wheatley bolted 53 yards for his third score, giving the Bulldogs the lead for good 20-18.

The Robichaud defense, led by middle linebacker Cooper, held and forced the Chargers to punt. The ball was retrieved by Wheatley, who returned it 78 yards for a touchdown. The omnipresent Wheatley came right back in the next series to put the game out of reach when he picked off a Crestwood pass and ran it back 62 yards for a touchdown.

Wheatley finished with a 21-yard touchdown run in the third quarter, and he set up Parham's one-yard TD run with a 48-yard run.

The game was called with 11:57 remaining in the fourth period when Parham intercepted a Crestwood pass and ran it back 36 yards for a touchdown.

"I felt this was our best overall effort of the season," Yauck said. "Everyone did their job."

Ralph Irwin, a sturdy full-back, provided the blocking that helped spring Wheatley loose, and Carlson Brintley contributed 60 yards in 18 attempts.

"Our ground game was working so well, we didn't have to pass," Yauck said. "If only it could go as well in the playoffs."

Neuromuscular disease.

It's a large group of disorders that weaken muscles and nerves — devastating thousands of Americans each year.

When neuromuscular disease strikes, many muscle functions are lost. So writers can't write. Musicians can't play. Teenagers can't dance. Babies can't cry. Many patients lose the ability to walk. And once they're in wheelchairs, they'll never get out.

You can help MDA fight neuromuscular disease by sending a tax-deductible contribution today. The Association receives no government grants or patient fees, so its work is funded entirely by private donations.

Next time you think you've been sitting too long, sit one more minute and write a check. You'll be helping thousands of patients stand up to their disease.

A new North takes over local dealership

By PATRICIA BROWN
ANP Staff Writer

Following in his grandfather's footsteps, Doug North, 33, has been promoted to vice president of general management at North Bros. Ford in Westland.

He didn't start at the top, however. North's climb to the top of his family's business included working for the competition.

"As a youngster I worked at the dealership, which was originally started by my grandfather Raymond and his brother Ernest," North said.

As difficult as it may be to believe, selling Fords wasn't North's first choice after he graduated from college.

"When I graduated from college I went to work at a Chrysler-Plymouth dealership as a salesman," he said.

It was in the early 1980s, when Chrysler almost went bankrupt, that North began selling the cars.

"It really wasn't that bad. That was about the time they came out with the mini van. I learned a lot working for another car company," North said.

The Detroit market is somewhat insulated because most people in Detroit are still working in the auto companies.

— Doug North
V.P. general management

Before joining his family's dealership, North went to work with another Ford dealership that also sold Mercury products.

North's promotion puts him "in the driver's seat," and in charge of the entire dealership.

"It's pretty much running the entire company," he said.

North Bros. has approximately 104 employees, sells an average of 250 cars each month, services approximately 1,200 cars each month, and has nearly 2,000 cars go through the body shop each month, according to North.

Although many experts are predicting a recession, which usually means bad news for the auto industry, North is trying to remain optimistic.

"Fortunately it really hasn't really hit us here in Detroit yet. We have had a couple of departments that were slightly off this month, but I don't think it can be blamed on a recession," he said.

"The Detroit market is somewhat insulated because most people in Detroit are still working in the auto companies, which keeps people in the market (to buy cars)," North said.

If car sales drop within the next two months, North said it's nothing to worry about and it isn't a sign of bad times.

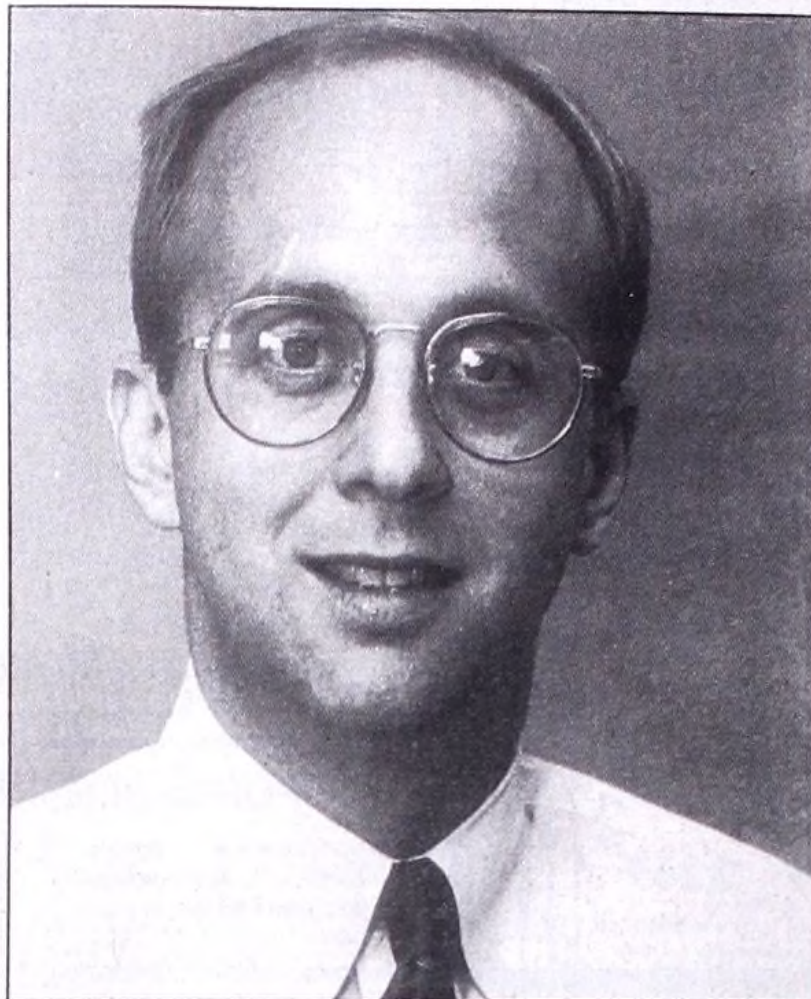

"Traditionally November and December are not as strong as the rest of the year," he said.

The 1991 Ford lineup is another reason North is confident about the financial outlook of the company.

Ford recently redesigned the Escort, making it sportier. The car is selling well, he said. North compared the new design to a "cross between the Taurus and the Thunderbird."

This spring, Ford will debut its newly designed Crown Victoria.

"It is brand new for 1992. It should be out in April. It hasn't been redesigned in years," he said.
